isrm - rock mass classification the objectives of rock mass classifications are to: identify the most important parameters influencing the rock mass. divide a rock mass formation into groups of similar behaviour. provide a basis for understanding the characteristics of each rock mass class. relate experiences of rock conditions at one site to those at another. classification // characterization of some rock features - is one of the most obvious characteristics of a rock stratum and therefore one of the most basic and useful in the description of a rock to both the specialist and layman alike. methods to quantify the parameters applied in the rmi - some minerals have a stronger influence on the properties of a rock than other. in rock construction the mica and similar minerals have an important contribution where they occur as parallel oriented continuous layers (selmer-olsen, 1964). the determination of shear strength in residual soils for ... -
